A few aspects that will influence the cost of your extension after your retreat & workshop :

- the season (high or summer season)
- the remoteness of the location
- the lodge or camp's size
- the type of transfer - by air, private charter or by road
- the length of your trip

Important note: Please note that a luxury safari is not necessarily synonymous with luxurious accommodation. It can also mean a more authentic experience in a remote prime location, with more exclusivity. Some tented camps can be more expensive than certain 5 star built lodges. If you want true comfort, the specific areas where we operate are abundant with 4 or 5 star establishments offering a stunning safari experience together with very comfortable amenities.
